Extension of Deadline to Publish the Quarterly Report for the First Quarter of 2020

In view of the directives of the government of Israel during recent weeks in order to halt the spread of the Corona virus and the implications of its spread on the business activity of reporting corporations, and pursuant to the Israel Securities Authority (hereinafter: the ISA) Staff Announcement on March 15th 2020, and in accordance with the power granted in paragraph 36(h) of the Securities Law, 5728 – 1968 (hereafter: the Securities Law), the ISA is announcing as follows:

1. In the current and exceptional circumstances, a 30-day extension will be granted to reporting corporations in order to submit the quarterly report for the first quarter of 2020, such that the deadline for its publication will occur no later than June 30th 2020, thus replacing the date of May 31st 2020.
2. Companies that choose to take advantage of the exception to publish the quarterly report for the first quarter of 2020 are required to publish an immediate report to investors on the date that it is decided not to submit the report by the regular date or by May 31st 2020, which is earlier.
3. The above does not detract from the obligation to submit any other report by its deadline. Every corporation must verify that it is able to maintain reporting continuity and that it is able to publish immediate and periodic reports by the Magna System, as required by law and on the dates specified in the Securities Law and its regulations.
